Still another incident was detailed by the witness. "When Mrs. Chadwick was in Europe." he said, "ahe wrote that Dr. Chadwick was in the hospital, seriously ill; the daughter was also ill, and she was in sore distress. She cabled me that she had no money, and I sent her $15.00. When she arrived here she was thought to be dying. She then told me where, if anything happened to her, I would find a letter to Mr. Carnegle, and he would settle all her indebtedness."

Witness had seen no other notes, but hind seen a check which was sent to his house when he was ill. It was, for $60,000, and had Andrew Carnegle's name signed to it. Whether any money was ever procured on it he did not know.

As to the value of Mrs. Chadwick's household fittings, Mr. Reynolds thought they might be worth about $200,000.

He said he took a chattel mortgage about two years $20,00 but had never recorded it.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—A subpoens was served on Andrew Carnegle at his home in this city to-day, calling upon him to go to Cleveland, O., on Wednesday and testify in the case of Mrs. Cassle L. Chadwick. The summons was issued by Judge Francis J. Wing, of the United States District Court of the Northern District of Ohlo and was accepted willingly by Mr. Carnegle was annoyed, however, when he discovered the summons required him to make the trip to Cleveland. "What." he cried, when he saw that it required his presence in Cleveland. "Why, I, don't think I will be able to go out there at all. I've got lumbago. Do you mean to say that I'll have to be out in Cleveland on Wednesday, then come back here to appear before Commissioner Shields on Saturday?"

It was said at the residence of Andrew Carnegie to hight that he would be unable to go to Cleveland to testify in the Chadwick case, owing to lilness. Mr. Carnegle is indisposed with an attack of lumbago and his physician is of the opinion that it would not be advisable for Mr. Carnegle to take the trip.

One of Mr. Carnegle's secretaries said to night that satisfactory arrangements have been made to that end with the United States District Attorney, H. La Burnett.

OLCOTT THE MAN.

New York Judge Narrowly Es caped Nets of Mrs. Chadwick.

caped Nets of Mrs. Chadwick.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, December 12.—The identity of the mysterious attorney who had been mentioned as having gone to Cleveland & connection with the million loans secured by Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, as Andrew Carnegie's legal representative, was revealed to-day in the person of Judge W. M. K. Olcott, the law partner of .cx-Governor Frank S. Black.

The first infimition that Judge Olcott had any knowledge of the Cleveland woman came as the result of a statement from Cleveland that Judge Olcott had given Mrs. Chadwick a check for fifteen hundred dollars. In explaining how he happened to loan money to Mrs. Chadwick, he let it be known that he was the lawyer who was supposed to be Mr. Carnegie's attorney, and to have represented him in Ohio as such. As a matter of fact, Judge Olcott has never seen Mr. Carnegie, he declares, and never represented him in any capacity whatever.

Mr. Carnegle, he declares, and feverer represented him in any capacity whatever.

Judge Olcott and his partner, Mr. Black, narrowly escaped being duped as many other shrewd business men have been by this empress of finance. For several weeks Judge Olcott was just as credulous as any of the others who were less fortunate than him in their business relations with the woman. Instead of being Mr. Carnegle's attorney, Judge Olcott says that she came into his office a stranger March 2d, and, after telling of her fabulous wealth, mentioning Andrew Carnegle frequently, paid him a retaining fee to go to Cleveland to try to relieve an attachment of Oberlin College against her. He never saw Cashier Reynolds or the securities. He was shown the cashier's certificate only. While in Cleveland, Mrs. Chadwick borrowed $1,500 from Judge Olcott, who was unable to get the attachment relieved. He met Mr. Beckwith, who later wrote him, asking him if he was Mr. Carnegie's lawyer, Mrs. Chadwick tried to get Judge Olcott to go to Cleveland again, and when he got a letter from Mr. Beckwith on March 18th, telling him how Mrs. Chadwick had misrepresented to be again retained by her. Since the recent disclosures, she has tried to secure his services, telephoned his, office even to-day, but he wpuld have nothing ted do with her. He admits she fooled him for two weeks and congratulates himself that he escaped so luckily.
